Rev. Louis Mintz

One of the severest shocks to our village of Goodwin, occurred January 18, 1958, when news came from Parkhurst, Ont. that the Rev. Louis Mintz had passed away. Although he had been ill for some time and had been in the village for the previous two years, his death was a great shock to the community.

Mr. Aldridge Hunter, no one realized the end was so near. The deceased was eighty-four and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Mintz of Goodwin. He was a member of the Pentecostal Mission for over thirty years and owned and operated a farm about four miles from the village. With the exception of a short period spent in Toronto he had always lived here. For some time he drove a school bus and also kept a grocery store during the summer months while the Hunter mill is in operation.

He was married to Bertha Switzer who predeceased him. They had one son, Clifford Mintz of Goodwin. Later he married Emma Matilda Chamberlain. They then were born a family of seven children: Mrs. Aldridge Hunter (Oleady), Mrs. Rosalie Hunter (Mabel), both of Goodwin; Mrs. Eva Madell (Margaret) of St. Catharines; Mrs. Blar Hamilton (Vivian) of Goodwin and Geraldine (Lucy) of Appleton. Also surviving his late are two sons: grand-daughter and the first grand-daughter. Also the brothers and sisters: Mrs. Elmer Dougal, Bert of Allaw; Mrs. Cleo Moore (Laura) of Toronto; Harry of Brantford; Mrs. of Toronto; and Mrs. Edward Lind of Lindsay.

The funeral was held from the United Church on January 22nd at 10:00 a.m. A number of people looked for his text, Ephesians 3:14. Rev. M. Holmes of Lindsay read Psalm and Mr. Rev. Roman Lindsay prayed and Rev. Ignatius of Brantford read the Gospel. Mrs. Percy Holmes presided at the piano.

The floral and other tributes were many and beautiful and showed the high esteem in which the deceased was regarded. Interment was at Goodwin Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Ross Fisher, Jim Madell, Blar Hamilton, Aldridge and Ronald Hunter, and Verne Mintz.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were: From Perry Sound, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith, from Brampton, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith, and from Brantford, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith and family. ## MISS UNIVERSE SIX YEARS AFTER

Mrs. Virgilio Hilario, pictured with her two children, Ana Lisa, eight months, and Arnie, two in their home in Forbes Park, outside of Manila, the "Millionaire" House of the Philippines, gave up the glamour routine of "Miss Universe" to settle down as housewife and mother almost six years ago. Mrs. Hilario is the former Finnish beauty, Anna Kusela, who won the "Miss Universe" contest at Long Beach, California, in June, 1928. She met her husband the following April and married him one month later. Within four weeks she announced she was "tired" of being "Miss Universe" and all that came with it, including a seven-year-film contract, and that she was settling down to have "more than one or two children."

Budget

$55.3 million, from $114.6 million to $108.2 million in 1958-59. This is an increase of 13 per cent over last year's appropriation and 18.4 million or 41 per cent in the last three years.

To special grants to municipalities, which are being increased by $1.1 million.

The Ontario Municipal Improvement Corporation from its incorporation in 1950 to February 27, 1958 has purchased municipal and school board debentures totalling $12.6 million, of which $19.8 million have been purchased in the last fiscal year. In addition, the corporation has approved the purchase of debentures totalling $16.7 million.

14. Provision is being made to assist rapidly developing mining improvement districts by loan.

15. Through the Ontario Water Resources Commission, which was established in 1956, contracts for water and sewage works have been made to a value of $5.1 million.

16. In agreement with the Federal Government concerning hospital insurance is now to be signed.

The Province, together with the Federal Government, has decided to capital construction grants to hospitals. In the past fiscal year the Province has paid capital grants on 1,400 beds and hospitals.

18. Ontario's health bill in the current fiscal year will total $93.1 million.

19. The total expenditure for provincial welfare services, including the increase share of direct municipal unemployment relief, will reach $42.8 million in this fiscal year, 1958-59, 9.3 million above the Province's total welfare bill for the current fiscal year.

20. Education, research and some farm programs are being emphasized. The Ontario Agricultural and Veterinary Colleges and agricultural schools are to be modernized and expanded to improve teaching and research facilities. Maintenance and capital appropriations in 1958-59 total $15.7 million.

21. Ontario is engaged on a capital construction program without parallel in its history. During the fiscal year, 1957-58, the Province of Ontario together with its municipalities and the various commissions and agencies, expended a total of $87.5 million on capital formation and repairs. This expenditure will provide for on-site and off-site employment for an estimated average monthly work force of over 215,000. In the coming fiscal year, a further increase in this capital investment program will be undertaken.

22. The Province is expanding its highway construction program. Eighty-four new construction and maintaining, an provincial highway system is expected to reach a total of $102.8 million in 1958-59. This represents an increase of $2.8 million over the total for 1957-58.

23. Comprehensive constructive activities, including hospitals, teachers' colleges, conservation works, education and other public buildings of all kinds, docks, dams, and renewal works will be advanced during the next fiscal period. Appropriations totalling $63.3 million are being made for the public works and conservation program projected from April 1st. In the fiscal year now ending, our combined construction activities required an expenditure of $64.9 million.

24. During the coming year, flood control and storage dams, docks, renewal works and many other similar projects will be advanced. An appropriation of $12 million is being made for these purposes.

25. A St. Lawrence parkway system, being created from the Bay of Quinte to the Ontario-Quebec boundary.

26. In this Budget, capital expenditures on highways, Ontario Provincial and other physical structures are being increased by $26.5 million over last year's, from $117.7 million to $144.2 million.

27. Of the huge accumulation in Ontario, proposed under the fiscal year 1957-58, according to $11.7 million, over one-half was not of current revenue. Thus, during this current year we have financed more new capital construction out of our current revenue than in any previous year of our history.

28. The increase, of $99.6 million, of our net debt in this current fiscal year is the outcome of the large scale capital program upon which we have been engaged.

29. However, pointing up the need for additional sources of revenue if the province is to continue its essential program and give assistance to the municipalities.

30. Although the Province has obtained an interest reduction in its tax-sharing arrangements with the Federal Government, the Province's objective is a share of the direct tax funds equal to 15 per cent of Federal individual income tax. 15 percentage points of corporation income and 30 per cent of Federal succession duty collections.

It is in these progressive fields of taxation that we must look for an increase in our revenue.

31. Accordingly, we are neither introducing new taxes nor raising rates. On the contrary a change is being effected in our method of allocating the profits of corporations between provinces which will remove any question of duplicate taxation arising from the two different systems of profit allocation that are in use in this country.

DIVORCE INCREASE

Ontarians are getting unmarried at the rate of about one-thousand a year. But the divorce rate while increasing in 1956 after three years of decline, is still below the rate for the people as a whole in years after World War Two—(RPP)

SHOOT STORY

Poachers Outwitted

By Richard Hill Williams

IT HAPPENED THAT young Glen Lloyd was the only warden on duty when Chief Fred Mother received word that poachers were doing a wholesale business in mouse meat up in British Columbia. Glen was a rookie on the job. As yet he'd had no contact with either the hardships or the dangers of a poach, woods game warden. Chief Mother decided to use discretion. You go up there and do some reconnoitering," he told the youth.

"You'll find a base camp up a hill near the headquarters of the Beaver. Make this your headquarters until Warden Loomis arrives. He'll tell you how to proceed," Chief Mother drummed with his pencil. "Don't take any chances, son. I've an idea that Vice Standard's behind this ring. He's a bad actor."

Glen reached the base camp two days later. The ground was covered with a six-inch fall of snow. Glen would need two days more and then decided to take matters into his own hands. Armed with his service pistol and a flashlight he crept toward the ridge where the poachers of the truck would have to be.

It was bitterly cold and a brisk wind was blowing. Also there was the promise of snow in the air. Midnight came and went and Glen waited for the poachers to appear. He was growing impatient for delaying action. Glen was alone in the dark when he heard distinctly the rear of an engine moving.

He waited until the driver was shifting gears for the final push, then slipped out in the glare of the lights. He held his gun in one hand. The leader of his sheepskin coat was plainly visible.

Instead of stopping, the driver bent down to the rear window. The truck roared straight at the warden. Glen stepped to one side, barely avoiding being hit, and as the truck passed he leaped forward, throwing himself onto the running board. He clung there perilously for a moment, then sprang off, hit him on the head, he heard an angry

Glen followed the trucks until they turned into a country road, and went spinning of into space. Fifteen minutes later he emerged on to the same two-lane road where it doubled back on itself. The lights from the truck were already sweeping up the incline.

GLEN CROUCHED behind a tree. He realized that the driver was so intent. He waited until the truck had cranked by two feet after it. He caught the tailboard and hauled himself over. Two men were standing up front, leaning over the cab. The leader had thrown down some of his ap Reversing his service gun, Glen crept up behind the truck, feeling one of them and grappled with the other. The struggle was short-lived. Taken completely by surprise the poacher was at a disadvantage. Blurred by the blow which he tried to dodge, he fell against the cab and slumped to his knees when Glen struck not a second time.

The warden handcuffed the two men to the rear of the truck, then approached the cab. There was no sign of the driver's rear. Through this Glen drove his way to the top of the hill. The two men inside turned to find their captor staring into the gun's muzzle.

Warden Loomis, tracking northward to join young Glen Lloyd, was astonished to find a truck on the old, lone road. The truck stopped and a friendly, boyish voice greeted him.

"Hi, Joe," Glen yelled. "Put 'em in the truck. They're the poachers. You'll find 'em in the truck, will you? My hand's on it. I'm making this gun 3 feet long. It's like a pull the trigger."

When Chief Mother heard the story he wrote a personal letter to Supervisor Herrick, complimenting the supervisor on his choice of men. Signed by W. H. Fennell.

Here is an artist's concept of a nuclear rocket missile, theoretically capable of hundred-fold increases over the power of today's missiles. A nuclear rocket missile could make inter-planetary travel possible with single rather than multi-stage engines. In concept, the engine would use energy of nuclear fission to convert, a working fluid into propulsive gases. In the photo below, a schematic drawing illustrates a possible principle of the nuclear rocket engine. The reactor located in the combustion chamber would provide almost limitless energy to convert fluids to ultra-high-temperature gases. Expanding through the rocket nozzle, the gases would attain enormous velocities creating a propulsive thrust several times greater than that of current chemical rockets. The working fluid would be pumped from the tank in the reactor by a high-speed turbo-pump.

NUCLEAR CAR MAY LOOK LIKE THIS

The only thing required to make this a nuclear-powered car is a nuclear-power engine. The car, designed by Ford in Detroit, is a conception of the design of the future which, engineers say, may come sooner than expected. The power plant would be housed in the rear between two hoppers.

about housing at Lindsay

Interest in scheme not sufficient to warrant project

"It appears that there is not a sufficient demand, for as to under-take a housing project in this community at the moment, in Lindsay," said Mayor John A. Kelly, after a meeting of the Regional Managers of the Central Housing and Mortgage Company held in Lindsay.

"Two advertisements were placed in the local press, and only one received seven replies. When we called on potential tenants, they were not interested in the project and we had to leave three empty," commented Mr. Kelly.

But was the project really responsible for several members not being able to get to the meeting, as among those present were: Mr. Bradley, Department of Housing and Planning, Roy Lajon, Central Housing and Mortgage Company; Glen Wilson, Housing Authority; Frank Boleman, C.H.M.C.; Mr. Gaffney, County, Mr. Laidy from the Department of Development and Planning, Toronto; and from Lindsay, Mayor John A. Kelly, Town Clerk W.B. Aday, P. J. Laidlaw, Manager of the Lindsay Housing Department, and Mr. D.A. Sindhu, Managers from Owen Sound, Midland, Toronto and Hamilton were unable to be present.

It was pointed out that the project was being discussed among which was a suggestion for paying $5 per year for the use of the project of houses. It was suggested that two costs be applied over four years. Several members were of the opinion that one cost of $5 per year would be more desirable. Instead of liquid, this didn't deter Rusty, however, who didn't want living at his breakfast.

It was also agreed that in all future units, use of oil heating should be installed, as too much expense was caused by wood or coal heating. A date was set for the conference. It was agreed that this should take place on June 2nd, 82 at Niagara Falls.

The story is told in Lindsay that one of its larger industries was brought down to a crawl because of a recent change in the law in California. A Lindsay man now living in California is reported to have been, in an Ottawa hotel and who was in the process of an interview with a reporter from the city being held in the hotel. The hotel was filled up. The Lindsay man went to share his room but the offer was refused with a profit. "The particular about who share a room," he reported, "Lindsay demands: 'I am too'."

This, the story goes, was the beginning of Lindsay's prosperity and the subsequent bringing in Lindsay of a substantial industry.
